

(12) maulik

COURSE WORK FOR FIRST SIX MONTH DURATION IN PH.D. PROGRAMME

SUBJECT: - AYUVEDA SAMHITA AND SIDDHANT

Duration: - (60 hrs. -4 credits)

Sr. No.	Topic	Hours
THEORY
1.	Subject specific research methodology (Classical Methods of Research): <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Concept of Pramana and its application in research 2) Dashavidha Parikshya Bhava – Tools of examination in research 3) Implementation of Tantrayukti in research 4) Assessment of disease condition on the basis of 'निदानदोषदृष्यविशेषेभ्यो विकारविघातभावाभावप्रतिविशेषा भवन्ति' 5) Concept of Shadavidha Padarth and its implementation in research 	10
2.	Importance of 'Dvadasha-ashana' in present era with special reference to maintenance of health and prevention of diseases.	2
3.	Concept of ahara, classification of ahara, regional food and its utility in current scenario	4
4.	Ethical concern in literary research	2
5.	Importance of concept of Anukta vyadhi for the assessment of newer diseases in present era	3
6.	Usages of maxims, tacchilya, Kalpana and arthashraya	3
7.	Concept of 'Patha-avabodha-anusthana' and its application in teaching, learning and research	2
8.	Research related equipments / scales: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Prakriti assessment scale 2) Swasthya assessment scale etc. 	4
9.	Broader areas of research: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Manuscriptology – collection, preservation and exploration (Digitalization and Publication) 2) Genomics in Ayurveda 	8
10.	Role of peer reviewed journals in advancement of research in Ayurveda	8

11. Charak, Samhita, Sushrut Samhita & Vagbhott Described Ayurved fundamentals utility. 10

12. Similarity & Dissimilarity of Ayurved fundamentals 04 with Darshanik fundamen's.